Insect Powder That Kills

If you want satisfying Insect Powder you must purchase the kind made from the half opened buds of a species of chamomile grown in Dalmatia. This powder is stronger and of greater killing power than any other. The brand we handle is that kind and we know it to be reliable. We have just received a new lot right from the importers. It costs you no more than other insect powders and being stronger it goes much farther. 5c oz.; 15c 1-4 lb.; 25c 1-2 lb.

School Girls in Japan.

According to the Japan Chronicle, the number of girls now receiving a school education in Japan is more than eight times the female school attendance of ten years ago. Figures given out by the Tokyo educational society show that 15 years ago the percentage of females admitted to the training school was less than 20, as compared with the men, but today the rate has been completely reversed, the number of male applicants being now about 15 per cent of the total.

Apples and the Throat.

By ordering his patients to eat heartily of certain fruits and forbidding them to touch others at all, Dr. Nadal, one of Paris' most famous scientists, is treating the throats of the great opera singers. There is no medicine at all in his treatment. In some cases he adds nothing to the patient's diet and secures results by forbidding them to eat apples and pears. According to Dr. Nadal an apple or pear each day is enough to keep the sensitive throat out of order all the time. A singer of course notices the first symptom of throat disorder in the form of congestion of the vocal cords. These, instead of being white and thin, like a tendon, become red and swollen with congestion of blood. The high notes become difficult and the quality of the voice is impaired.

Librarians and Liberia.

The American Library association lately held a meeting at Narragansett Pier. Among the persons in attendance on the proceedings was a buxom lady of color, who took a prominent seat and listened to all that went on with an air of evident pride. As she did not appear to be a regular delegate she was finally questioned regarding her identity and revealed herself as a fairly well known laundress of the place. Further questioning brought out the fact that she had mistaken the librarians for a mission from Liberia. The joke is perhaps in part upon the librarians, whose debates and literary performances had not in the least served to dispel her illusion.—Bookman.

The Best Ever.

The entertainment presented at the opera house proved to be one of the best of the season, and the large audience was loud in its praise of the programme offered by the LaBarre Bros. minstrels. There are larger minstrels that visit this city and their $10,000 scenery and costumes are grand, but we feel justified in saying that the entertainment presented by the LaBarre Bros. and their splendid company was better from an artistic standpoint, for we never saw so many good artists with any other minstrel organization that ever played in our city. The jokes were really new, the dancing was far above the average and the comedy part of the show was clean and bright and the comedians clever. The balancing act in the olio is a very original novelty, and made a grand hit. The performer should be congratulated for his offering something new. His feat of balancing was heartily applauded.

The hoop rolling specialty was exceptionally good. We have had hoop rollers, but this young man goes them one better.

The quartette of the company is the vocal feature, and the audience did not get them go until they had exhausted their well-stocked musical album. They combine singing and comedy and are efficient in both.

A contortionist turned and twisted his body into every conceivable position and shape; a wonderful exhibition and executed with much style and grace.

Eddie LaBarre and assistant created much laughter by their eccentric specialty. We have known Ed for many seasons, and this season he has strengthened his hold on the patrons of the opera house stronger than ever, and the LaBarre Bros. can ever feel assured of a good house in our city.—Rochester News.

At the Barre opera house Monday evening.
